

Graduate Course Syllabus

JUS 606: Planning and Tactics in Homeland Security and Weapons of Mass Destruction

Center: Online

Course Prerequisites

None

Course Description

A graduate level examination to provide students with a thorough understanding of the strategic, political, legal, and organizational challenges associated with the defense of the U.S. homeland, the efforts that are under way to meet these challenges, and possible policy options. The course starts by examining the range of potential threats to the U.S. homeland, focusing on potential terrorist acts. The course then examines strategies and means for addressing these threats, including both military and non-military options. The course goes on to analyze organizational issues and impediments to effective policy coordination. Finally, the course addresses the implications of homeland security challenges and policies for constitutional rights, legal protections, and civil liberties.

Course Outcomes

- To define knowledge and scholarship about the field of Homeland Security.
- To prepare existing justice professionals for the myriad of new occupational positions and corresponding demands relating to Homeland Security.
- To summarize governmental policies and procedures in the defense of the homeland.
- To assess and analyze the international rule of law in the application of Homeland Security.
- To interpret statutes, codifications and relevant administrative rules and regulations in light of applied strategies of Homeland Security.
- To interpret relevant laws and administrative regulations about Homeland Security.
- To define and describe the role of the Department of Homeland Security in matters involving, travel, transportation, immigration, emergency preparedness, and technology.
- To break down the various offices and programs of the DHS and how those programs filter down to the state and local communities.
- To compose infrastructure policy and guidelines for both the private and the public sector.
- To contribute policy initiatives on threats and disasters.
- To design processes of coordination and cooperation amongst distinct agencies.
- To chart relevant agencies in the local area where DHS has contact.

Instructor Availability and Response Time

Your class interaction with the instructor and your classmates will take place in Blackboard on a regular, ongoing basis. Your instructor will be actively engaged within the course throughout the week. You will normally communicate with your instructor in the weekly discussions or the General Questions forum in Blackboard so that your questions and the instructor's answers benefit the entire class. You should feel free, however, to communicate with your instructor via SNHU email at any time, particularly when you want to discuss something of a personal or sensitive nature. Your instructor will generally provide a response within 24 hours.
