LIT 485 Part 1: Senior Thesis in Literature

Center: Online

Course Prerequisites

See course description below.

Course Description

This course is an option for seniors of exceptional ability who are majoring in English language and literature and who wish to have a graduate-level research and writing experience in some chosen area of American, British, or world literature. Students must petition to take the course. Offered on an ongoing basis, as this is, at a minimum, a two-term research and writing project. Students who receive permission from their academic advisors must proceed to formulate a written thesis proposal to be submitted for approval to the selected instructor. If the project is approved, the student will collaborate with the instructor in the online course to review progress on research and written work. The final result will be a scholarly essay of 40 to 60 pages, to be presented to the instructor as a cohesive and polished academic paper with a supplemental essay that outlines plans to present/publish the paper after the course is complete.

Course Outcomes

- Demonstrate knowledge of multiple critical and theoretical approaches to studying literary texts
- Draw connections between theory and practice and apply those connections to a sustained research project
- Demonstrate an advanced understanding and utilization of bibliographic resources, including the ability to locate, incorporate, and properly cite sources according to MLA guidelines
