

Undergraduate Course Syllabus

MAT 430: Seminar in Applied Mathematics

Center: Online

Course Prerequisites

MAT 375 and 1 course from MAT 300, MAT 410, or MAT 420 with a grade of C or better

Course Description

In this culminating course, students apply mathematical and/or statistical skills to a particular focus area by completing a research project in applied mathematics. The topic of the project is selected from a list of topics in the applied sciences (economics, engineering, physics, chemistry, biology, epidemiology, pharmacology, physiology, music, or the social sciences) or may be chosen by the student with instructor approval. Application of technology tools is required to model the problem, obtain quantitative results, and complete the project.

Course Outcomes

- Formulate analytical, researchable questions that focus on identified topics within the area of applied mathematics and science
- Assess the appropriateness of information for creating effective mathematical models and solutions
- Justify modeling choices using clear arguments supported by theories and research
- Create mathematical models that address real-world problems using appropriate data and tools
- Communicate the results of analysis, limitations of models, and further application effectively to intended audiences

Required Materials

Using your learning resources is critical to your success in this course. Please purchase directly through the SNHU Online Bookstore rather than any other vendor. Purchasing directly from the bookstore ensures that you will obtain the correct materials and that the IT Service Desk, your advisor, and the instructor can provide you with support if you have problems.

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion

As indicated in our core values, SNHU is committed to “embrace diversity where we encourage and respect diverse identities, ideas, and perspectives by honoring difference, amplifying belonging, engaging civilly, and breaking down barriers to bring our mission to life.”

This may or will be reflected in SNHU’s curriculum as we embrace and practice diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) to provide the most transformative experience for our students, faculty, and staff. Because topics pertaining to DEI can be sensitive, please remember that embodying and practicing diversity, equity, and inclusion is one of our core values that you will encounter throughout the academic experience. In higher education, we are expected to think and engage critically. Use a growth mindset to embrace the diverse readings, course assignments, and experiences of your peers and faculty.

For more information about DEI at SNHU, please visit our website at the Office of Diversity and Inclusion.

Instructor Availability and Response Time

Your class interaction with the instructor and your classmates will take place on a regular, ongoing basis. Your instructor will be actively engaged within the course throughout the week. You will normally communicate with your instructor in the weekly discussions or the General Questions discussion topic so that your questions and the instructor’s answers benefit the entire class. You should feel free, however, to communicate with your instructor via SNHU email at any time, particularly when you want to discuss something of a personal or sensitive nature. Your instructor will generally provide a response within 24 hours. Instructors will post grades and feedback (as applicable) within seven days of an assignment’s due date, or within seven days of a late submission.
