

Undergraduate Course Syllabus

IND 201: Self-Designed Degree Program Planning

Center: Online

Course Prerequisites

None

Course Description

This course is a tutorial through which the student, in consultation with a faculty mentor, establishes a self-designed major in general studies with a concentration in a discipline of his or her choice. Students complete an academic plan of study and provide a rationale for their curriculum choices in line with the goals of the university's general education program.

Course Outcomes

- Illustrate the applicability of academic learning by explaining its connections and value to personal and professional planning
- Utilize relevant research in explaining how strengths and weaknesses can be leveraged to achieve personal and professional goals
- Employ fundamental writing skills in articulating plans of study appropriate for academic and professional audiences
- Apply fundamental goal principles and strategic planning techniques in supporting feasible plans of academic study

Required Materials

Using your learning resources is critical to your success in this course. Please purchase directly through SNHU's online bookstore, MBS Direct, rather than any other vendor. Purchasing directly from the bookstore ensures that you will obtain the correct materials and that the Help Desk, your advisor, and the instructor can provide you with support if you have problems.

Purchasing the following textbook is optional:

Cultivating Inquiry-Drive Learners: A College Education for the Twenty-First Century

Instructor Availability and Response Time

Your class interaction with the instructor and your classmates will take place in Blackboard on a regular, ongoing basis. Your instructor will be actively engaged within the course throughout the week. You will normally communicate with your instructor in the weekly discussions or the General Questions forum in Blackboard so that your questions and the instructor's answers benefit the entire class. You should feel free, however, to communicate with your instructor via SNHU email at any time, particularly when you want to discuss something of a personal or sensitive nature. Your instructor will generally provide a response within 24 hours.
